

Flashbang Science Highly Commended for Prestigious IChemE Awards

Lancashire based Flashbang Science are pleased to announce they were Highly Commended for the Education and Training Award Category, one of the prestigious IChemE awards held at the Annual Dinner on November 3rd at the ICC in Birmingham.

The Education and Training Award sponsored by Costain has always been one of the most sought after of the awards and with the competition being so strong in this category, Claire Holt, Founder and Managing Director of Flashbang Science explains,

“To be nominated for these awards was a huge achievement in itself and we can be proud that we have shown ourselves to be a company that has provided an excellent educational science background to so many children over the past 12 months. The Flashbang Science mobile laboratory and online education “brings science to life” for many primary school children in the North West”

Claire added, “The awards dinner was a fantastic event . To be officially Highly Commended in such a prestigious global award is a fantastic achievement and we look forward to returning next year to hopefully go one better.”

IChemE Chief Executive Dr David Brown said: "Being shortlisted in the IChemE Awards is a great achievement. The awards cover all aspects of chemical engineering and on a global scale. Each year the calibre of entries gets better and better so this really is a success worth shouting about."

FOR FURTHER MEDIA INFORMATION PLEASE CONTACT GARETH
GLYNNE JONES ON 07833 148562

END

Editors Notes

- www.flashbangscience.co.uk
Interactively introducing Science to Primary Schools
- www.icheme.org

The Institution of Chemical Engineers (IChemE) is the global professional membership organisation for people who have an interest in and relevant experience in chemical engineering